NEEDED: USD 5,000,000

PEOPLE LIVING WITH HIV OFTEN EXPERIENCE INTERSECTIONAL FORMS OF DISCRIMINATION, INCLUDING GENDER, RACE, DISABILITY, ETHNICITY, AGE, DRUG USE, SEXUAL ORIENTATION, MIGRATION STATUS AND MORE.

The Civil Society members of the UNAIDS Programme Coordinating Board requested that urgency be added to UNAIDS Strategy of Zero Discrimination. The Global Partnership was created to address this urgency and reinvigorate the political commitment and action by Member States, UN, Civil Society Organizations and communities to end HIV-related stigma and discrimination.

This urgency aims to accelerate implementation and scale up of evidence-based programs and initiatives to end HIV-related stigma and discrimination; To close the data gap to inform policy and program implementation and demonstrate measurable progress towards eliminating all forms of HIV-related stigma and discrimination.
